TENCompetence Project Aim

• Building The European Network for Lifelong Competence Development

• To be used by any individual, school, team or organisation that has a need to (further) develop the competences (of their members) in a formal and/or informal way

• The system will integrate and develop open source software based on the principles of web services (demonstrated with various clients (rich clients, web clients))
Use Cases

1. Want to improve a specific competence
2. Want to study for a new job
3. Want to keep up-to-date
4. Want to explore the learning resources, courses, people, etc. in a certain field
5. Want to assess my competences
6. Want to reflect on my competences (identify new goals)
High level overview of connected services
Setting goals and estimating costs
This involves setting clear goals to be achieved by the end of the project and estimating the cost of reaching those goals.

The level at which you master this competence
Move the mouse over the control to change the level. Take the test to help you to estimate your level.

The evidence to prove you master this competence
